

A decorative banner at the top of the page. On the left, there is a photograph of a waterfall cascading down a rocky cliff. To its right is the official seal of Butte County, which features a circular design with a mountain range, a river, and a sun, surrounded by the words "BUTTE COUNTY". The text "Butte County" is written in a large, white, serif font, and "General Plan 2030" is written in a smaller, white, serif font below it. The background of the banner is a dark blue gradient with some light blue diagonal lines on the right side.
